HERE; my blessing with thee!

And these few precepts in thy memory

See thou character. Give thy thoughts no tongue. Nor any unproportion'd thought his act. Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar, Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried. Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel: But do not dull thy palm with entertainment Of each new-hatch'd, unfledged comrade. Beware Of entrance to a guarrel, but being in. Bear't that the opposed may beware of thee. Give every man thy ear, but few thy voice: Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment. Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy. But not express'd in fancy; rich; not gaudy; For the apparel oft proclaims the man. And they in France of the best rank and station Are of a most select and generous chief in that. Neither a borrower nor a lender be; For loan oft loses both itself and friend. And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry. This above all: to thing own self be true. And it must follow, as the night the day, Thou canst not then be false to any man. Farewell: my blessing season this in thee!

HAMLET.

At first the infant. Mewling and puking in the nurse's arms. And then the whining school-boy, with his satchel And shining morning face, creening like snall Unwillingly to school. And then the lover Sighing like furnace, with a woeful ballad Made to his mistress' evebrow. Then a soldier. Full of stronge oaths and bearded like the pard Jealous in honor, sudden and quick in quarrel. Seeking the bubble reputation Even in the cannon's mouth. And then the justice. In fair round belly with good capon lined. With eyes severe and beard of formal cut. Full of wise saws and modern instances: And so he plays his part. The sixth age shifts Into the lean and slipper'd pantaloon. With spectacles on nose and pouch on side, His youthful hose, well saved, a world too wide For his shrunk shank; and his big manly voice. Turning again toward childish treble, pipes And whistles in his sound. Last scene of all That ends this strange eventful history. Is second childishness and mere oblivion.
